LET THE WILD TIMES ROLL

Passing Time

Ring! It's time again. The alarm is silenced, students drag themselves forth to face another day. Another ordinary day marking the passage of another school year. Time passing us by? NO!!

WILD (wild) adj.
1. Not easily restrained or regulated.
2. In a state of intense excitement.
3. In a state of disorder; confusion.
4. Vermont Academy

At the very least, the time we spend here is unique to any other time in our lives. But more than that, it's time to show our true colors ... our wilder side. Is time passing you by? Your time is what you make it. Make these times exciting, make them WILD TIMES.

With Our Appreciation

"He is always there for me"

This is the tale of a man who is wild but caring, a man who leads us all. He has been here throughout our school career and has always had time for us. His enthusiasim and high spirits have always helped us through the tough times, exams, and cabin fever. Although he has many responsibilities, he still finds time to spend with the students, often putting us in front of his own work. He is our teacher, our coach, and our friend. This year he serves a new role as the Dean of Students. The 1988 Wildcat staff is proud to dedicate this book to Mr. Timothy Saburn.

TIME TO CUT LOOSE

Time you enjoy wasting is not wasted time

Should I stay or should I go this weekend? Will the Dean's office ok my card? These are questions we ask ourselves every week. Weekends are a time to lay back and take time out from our hectic schedules. For those who choose to stay, the staff offer many activities including movies, dinners, sports events, and off campus trips such as the Alpine Slide, and skiing at Killington. One of the most popular activities is, of course, sleeping late on Sunday morning.

IN THE BEGINNING

Fear and anxiety filled our minds as we trudged through the campus trying to find our dorms. It was the first day at our new school. Personalized T-shirts, group games, and the bonfire on the berm were all a part of orientation. The rainstorm did dampen the excitement. A power outage, however, proved to be a special treat, allowing people to sleep late and eliminating the assigned work duty. Orientation helped us to get settled into our new surroundings and created friendships which will last for years to come.

MOUNTAIN FEVER

You can feel Mountain Day in the air. The minds are closed as well as the books. When the bell rings, smiles are seen and Mountain Day begins. The boxes come out, the tie dies and Vaurnets go on. The Freshman depart for Geist's land, Sophmores and Juniors to Moore's Farm, and the Seniors head off for the infamous and long awaited Crystal Rock. Teacher's provide the balls, food, and supervision; the students provide the rest with imagination.

FRIGHTS AND FREAKS

It's early evening and all is dark. Inside the gym, a man hangs by a rope and there is smoke in th air. Young children in costume move from the haunted house to the refreshment stand. It's the first annual Halloween party for Kurn Hattin. Our students, dressed in various costumes, run games and lead tours through the haunted house. The Restrictions, our student band, played for the party and the dance afterward. A good time was had by all.

KIDS 'N' KLAUS

Every year Vermont Academy sees the true meaning of Christmas through the eyes of the Kurn Hattin kids. This year, 26 VA students shared a fun filled evening with 26 girls and boys from Kurn Hattin.

After Santa and his elves arrived, the radiant smiles could be seen and excitement felt throughout the room. People say that Christmas is just for kids but the big brothers and sisters felt differently. They saw the playful smiles of the boys as they chased their new remote control cars around the dining hall, and the girls proudly parading around with their new stuffed animals. The party brought smiles not only to the children's faces but also to the students and faculty members. Most importantly, the children reminded us all that Christmas is a time of happiness shared by all.

Fun In The Snow
With My V.A. Buddy

It was time to pull out your warmest clothes, bundle up and take to the snow. The Friday night special was the performance at the coffee house by The Restrictions, and soloist Colin Herlihy.

We slid into Saturday morning with the dare-devil luge and high flying ski jump. The day progressed with a feeling of suspense while we waited for one of the most talked about events, broomball! Alumni II was back to defend their title, but they were blown off the ice by the Jones South boys. The girls competition came down to the wire but the day student team pulled out a victory in the end. When the final scores were tallied the teams of Dr. Brown/Proctor/Sturtevant, and Davis/25 South/Jones III were the overwhelming winners.

Godspell

It was a long day of anticipation that led to a night of auditions and decisions. The days that followed until the cast list was posted were even longer. Finally, eleven were chosen. Then followed the long haul. Learn your lines. Learn your songs Learn your dance steps. Three months of work for three nights of performance. This year's production of Godspell took more time and energy than any other musical of the previous years. All the members of the cast were on stage all of the time. The cast, crew and band were led by directors Falko Schilling and Cynthia Murphy.

ACADEMICS

ENGLISH

Ms. Donnelly hard at work

With qualified teachers to help you through the reading, the grammar, and all those essays; English doesn't seem so bad. As a student prepares to write his or her umpteenth essay of the year, that extra attention helps. The school newspaper, and the literary magazine are places where students may have their writing published.

COMPUTERS

Chris Ritter ponders about the world of computers

The computer department serves many important functions. The staff is instrumental in keeping the administrative as well as the academic areas of the school running smoothly. Classes are available for the beginning computer user as well as the most seasoned "hacker." Every student who has spent an entire night entering a term paper into their computer only to find the reluctant beast unwilling to spit it out in the morning appreciates the help from this staff.

FINE ARTS, MATH

Lee, Martha, and Geoff create with tie-dyes

The fine arts dept. offers students the chance for creative expression through pottery, three-dimensional design, studio art, art history, music appreciation, chorus, and the aesthetics of theatre.

The math depart. consists of teachers who really brighten up an otherwise dry subject. Any one who has survived a year of Mr. Harrington's jokes will say that math can be interesting and challenging.

SOCIAL SCIENCES, LANGUAGES

Are we having fun yet?

The Social Sciences offer a wide variety of courses including China, Japan, Russia, Warfare, American History, World History, Holocaust, and Federal Government. Teachers combine experience and knowledge to add a special spice to the courses.

The language department welcomes a new language lab this year. Although students often find languages confusing at first, with the aid of the teachers; French, Spanish and Latin soon become clear.

Girls Varsity Soccer

As a team we worked well together. We lost a tough game to Middlebury's "B" team in overtime. Throughout the season we had various injuries, sicknesses, and other mishaps, but we never gave up. We played soccer to the best of our abilities and never gave up. But what is most important is that we played as a team. Even when we had to practice during an extended season we never gave up. Just wait until next year!

Varsity Football

The Wildcats Varsity Football team had another great season. With a lot of hard work, dedication, and great coaching we finished the season with a 7-1 record. Because of a good defense and a great offense we were able to out score our opponents 199 to 58.

With a tough win against Berkshire that had us scoring with only a few minutes left in the game, and an equally close game against Northfield Mount-Hermon, we had several games that came to the wire

The season ended with a big victory over our arch-rival, Kimball-Union Academy. We won with a score of 26-0.

Cross Country

The Cross Country team ended up the season placing fourth in the Lakes Region Championships (out of 10 teams) and placing sixth in the New England Championships (out of 14 teams). We hosted the championships this year.

The top ten runners were: Jesse Peters (winner of the Angus Black award) placing 4th in New England, Co-captain Ed Seibert placing 12th in New England, Co-captain Joe Black, George Berven, Sean Julian, Jon Spooner,Rodger Friedland. Stuart Abramson

Cycling

The fall cycling team, led by co-captains Chris Bennet and Arnold Simonds, enjoyed a moderate degree of success. Although Arnold had the only individual win, both captains, along with novice team member Ben Owen, placed well throughout the season. The strentgh of those three, along with the presence of several new strong riders, promises excellent results in the Spring prep school schedule.

Field Hockey

Field Hockey was played as a sport for the first time at V.A. this year. We started and ended our first season with success. The team worked hard and played well. The team captains were Debra Frenzilli and Lisa Divoll. The most improved player award went to Elizabeth Quackenbush, and the Most Valuable Player award went to Jill Boynton. We look for great things to come from Field Hockey in the future.

Boys JV Soccer

The team had a good season this year. We had several good players, who were able to work together and play some fine soccer. We had a pair of exciting, come from behind, wins in overtime; and our final game against Kimball-Union Academy was a 2-0 shutout! The Junior Varsity Soccer team combined hard work and team effort to complete a successful season. Good job!

Here I am again!

Girls JV Soccer

Girl's Junior Varsity soccer had a succesful season. We improved as a team and as individual players. We came up against some more experienced and more aggressive players, but we never gave up. Our top scorers were Karen Schuck and Sara Cota. Krissy Hale, Oona McCullough, and Claudia Tropp worked on getting the ball in the net for us. Amy Howard valiantly defended the goal throughout the season. Mary Kennelley helped the team get out of several binds. All in all, the girls worked hard and played well.

JV Football

The JV team had an excellent season this fall. The team was led throughout the year by strong performances from Bart Kyle, Dan Keller, John Dunbar, Jason Saunders, and the interior linemen.

Some highlights of the season were two shutout victories over Northfield Mt. Hermon and Kimball-Union, and two high scoring victories over Tilton and Holderness. The overall record was 4 wins and 3 losses. The future looks bright for the VA football program, due to the development of these young players.

Wrestling

The team has started out strong under the supervision of coaches Mike Kennelly and John Irving. The team is mixture of inexperienced and experienced wrestlers, giving the team some depth and the ability to plan for the future. Returning wrestlers are Brendan Irving, who placed 3rd in the N.E. Class A Tournament, and Captain Joe Black, last year's NE Class A champion at 167 lbs. We also have some excellent new wrestlers, Kyle Scanlon, David McShane, and Dan Keller. We anticipate a strong finish at the year end tournaments.

Alpine Skiing

The Alpine Ski team enjoyed a successful season. Facing tough competition in the Lakes Region from Holderness, White Mountain, and Proctor, the boy's team finished third in the league while the girls' team placed sixth.

The team, led by captain Neil Sullivan, had many skiers making contributions to the program. Fourteen skiers earned varsity letters and another fourteen racers qualified for junior varsity awards. With only seven seniors departing, it looks as though the team has a bright future ahead. The team hopes to improve upon their finish in the NEPSCA championships. Nine skiers competed in the USSA eastern.

Nordic Skiing

The team seems excited about competing this year, and they seem unified. Fall training began with a two hour climb up Styles Peak in a snow storm. Similarily we hiked Hartely Hill in the snow on the final day before exams.

We also had an early season trip to Craftsbury, VT to ski on snow. I anticipate that we will have a competitive and fun filled season.

Ski Jumping

Ski Jumping is rebuilding this year and becoming competitive once again in the Lakes Region and New England Prep School Association competitions. VA hosted the New England Championships on Feb. 17. The coaches Tim Saburn and Harry Brown recieved assitance from Warren Chivers who has devoted his life to VA and to skiing.

The team had a good combination of height, leadership, and speed. The height, and much of the scoring, was provided by a pair of 6'6" players, Jim Erion, and Jon Spooner. You've got to be a little crazy to play hockey-it's a fast moving, hard hitting sport; you've got to keep your wits about you and keep your stick on the ice.

Under the leadership of Ron "Quick shift" DeLonge, the squad is looking at the chance of a sucessful season. The latest game as of press time, a 3-1 win over Williston-Nothampton, displayed the ability present in the team. With the skill and leadership of John Reed, the speed and power of John "Fireball" Pendleton, the defensive strentgh posed by Brad Rowland, Steve Slack, Kevin Shaw, and Colin Spence, and puck-stopping talents of Eric Johnson, the club is looking for a fun, sucessful season.

Clubs & Activities

Clubs and activities serve many purposes. VASA, Orange Key, Peer Support, and Proctors are organizations designed to help the student body in their daily life. Amnesty International, and Global Issues Forum promote understanding of, and participation in the issues happening in the world around us. The outing club, a tradition here at the academy, provides activities for enjoying the outdooors.

Activities provide an alternative for students who wish to take a season off from competitive sports. The activities offered include Outdoor Education, Photography, Yearbook, Recreational Skiing, Rope Tow, Athletic Training, and operating the Zamboni.

VASA, the Vermont Academy Student Association, is an elected body that represents the students when working with the administration. In addition to making policy decisions, they also sponsor student activities. Orange Key is made up of seniors who promote school spirit. Peer support provides students with the opportunity of working with peers trained in counseling to help cope with the pressures of boarding school life. The Proctors are students whose leadership is used to provide stability in the dorms.

Amnesty International is a chapter of the international organization that promotes the human rights of people around the world. Global Issues Forum explores the issues concerning the world today. They have offered several lectures and forums on different issues.

The Outing Club, which has been in existence has approximately 84 years, sponsors trips to explore the outdoors, such as canoeing, camping, snowshoeing, and climbing.

Outdoor Education made use of the new ropes course, a series of ll challenges designed to develop group support and self-confidence. Students also learned climbing techniques and other outdoor skills. In photography students learn to take, develop, and print pictures. Students who work in the training room learn basic first aid skills used in dealing with sports injuries. These students make up an important part of the athletic department. The operators of the Zamboni and the rope tow provide necessary services to the hockey and ski teams. Recreational skiing allows students to enjoy the slopes without the pressures of competition.

The Wildcat Staff

The Yearbook staff is a collective bunch of slightly loony workaholics. It is generally the same every year, the yearbook staff starts off large, a lot of people with a lot of enthusiasm. All these people want to be a part of creating the WILDCAT, but slowly at first, and then all of a sudden, the staff shrinks. Perhaps the exposure to how much work it actually takes to get the book done, or bad management by management, drives away the once eager and excited staff. Now the staff is reduced to a core of hardworking self sacrificing fools, will do almost anything to assure that the book is produced on time. The staff begins slowly to crank out pieces of the completed book. With much encouragement, and several tactful reminders from the advisor, the speed at which work is done is accelerated (usually not quite soon enough however). It comes down to those last few nights of hard work and all-nighters done by the dedicated staff. These people insure that the book is done, something that will bring your memories to life.

Where the wild people go

When I came here to school, the entire yearbook except for the photography was put together over about 2 weeks by 3-6 people. Last year the book was put together in short spurts mostly by four people, one of whom was the advisor. This year Joyce Saville, Ms. Murphy and I attended a yearbook seminar to begin planning out this book. Although there have been occasional rushes right before deadlines to complete sections of the book, there has been more steady work. I also believe that this was one of the biggest yearbook staff's we've had in a few years. We've had our share of problems, but we did our best to overcome them. The 1988 Wildcat ''Wild Times'' is a key to unlock memories, and that is what we have hoped to produce this year. My thanks to Joyce Saville and Cynthia Murphy, it would have been impossible without them. I can only wish the best of luck and give my encouragement to Joyce Saville editor for the 1989 Wildcat.
